

Chorus America/ASCAP Alice Parker Award

The Chorus America/ASCAP Alice Parker Award honors Alice Parker's career that has spanned almost six decades and has been devoted to the creation of works for the human voice. This award will annually recognize a member chorus for programming significant recently composed music that expands the mission of the chorus and challenges the chorus's audience in a new way. The award is designed to recognize choruses that may not typically emphasize or include the performance of new music but have chosen to stretch themselves to present some of this repertoire. (Such choruses might include, but are not limited to, those specializing in early music or Baroque repertoire.)

Winners of this award receive an engraved plaque and a cash award. The award is given for the most recently completed concert season. The winners are selected by an anonymous panel of choral composers appointed by Chorus America; these people serve on a rotating basis so that each year's panel represents a fresh mix of choral composers.
